PLAN SUNDAY OPEN HOUSE

Plans for an "open house" Sunday afternoon, from 1:30 until dusk, at its quarters near Orranna, were outlined Friday evening at the meeting of the Adams County Fish and Game Association at its clubhouse.

Members of the association volunteered to be present to explain operation of the hatchery where 20,000 fish are being raised for distribution in the county's streams next spring and to describe the other facilities of the club located about a mile beyond the Hickory Bridge Farm, near Orranna.

OFFICIALS OF COUNTY SHOWN DORM MUSEUM

Adams County's commissioners Friday afternoon viewed the work completed to date by the Adams County Historical Society in the seminary "Old Dorm" and seemed well pleased with what they saw in the tour of the three floors at the 132-year-old building under guidance of the historical society's president, Dr. Charles Glatfelter.

Probably the most valuable portion of the entire collection, Dr. Glatfelter told the commissioners, are the files in the two rooms devoted to the library of the historical society. The books, donated to the historical society over the years, comprise a "small but valuable" collection, the Gettysburg College dean said, "but most important are the records gathered over the years and kept in these files."

Those records include details about nearly every borough in the county, pension and other papers of countians from the American Revolution, War of 1812 and Civil War, old post office records, histories of many of the county churches, such items as a catalogue of an 1890 teachers normal school at Abbotstown, family histories, history of the underground railroad, files of the anti-Masonic movement in the county, and files containing basic documents and monographs on practically every phase of the county's history.

HISTORICAL GEMS

Also kept in the library are an 1838 map of the county containing the names of most of the residents of that time, and a book taken from the Old Dorm during remodeling. The piece of wood contains the name of the foreman of carpenters, William Cook and the date 1832, when the building was constructed. One of the rooms devoted to the library contains, in addition to a large table donated by the seminary and various books and magazines, an iron stove made in Gettysburg and the research manuscripts of Elsie Singmaster Lewars in preparation for writing her book on Thaddeus Stevens.

In the hallways of the three floors used by the historical society the commissioners found many relics and pictures that claimed their attention, among them a group of checks written by countians including S. S. Schumaker, founder of the Seminary, a century ago, and a letter signed by Thaddeus Stevens. They found the rooms of the building, rapidly being turned into a museum, in various stages of completeness. Dr. Glatfelter explained: "We do not have any funds to buy items, but must rely on what is given us. We are seeking."

Give Up Hope For Ending

Congress Session Before Convention; See Filibuster

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate leaders all but gave up hope today of winding up the congressional session next week as Democratic liberals whipped up a filibuster against a compromise proposal to delay court-ordered legislative reapportionment in the states.

Democratic leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said in advance of today's debate that if talk continues through next week, Congress will have to return after the Democratic convention, opening Aug. 24 in Atlantic City.

This may be necessary to get final action on the $3.3-billion foreign aid money bill, to which the reapportionment proposal has been offered as a rider.

WILL GET VOTE

Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who got Mansfield to join him in offering the compromise amendment, said in a separate interview that if it takes until Labor Day to get action, he is ready to

New Wave Of Vandalism Sweeps Park

Another wave of vandalism has hit the Gettysburg National Park with a half dozen signs removed or smashed, a bronze rifle musket taken from a monument near Reynolds' Woods, and a pyramid of cannon shells stolen. Park officials are pushing their investigation.

In the early hours of Friday morning, six signs were stolen or destroyed, Park guards said and placed the time of the vandalism between 2 and 7 a.m.

Three four signs, one at the Bloody Angle, one at Little Round Top and one at the tower on W. Confederate Ave., were taken. A directional sign was removed on Howard Ave. A sign pointing to the 20th Maine monument at the foot of Little Round Top was smashed as was a directional sign at Devil's Den.

During the last week, the full scale bronze musket was torn from the 51st Pennsylvania monument at Reynolds' Woods. An entire pyramid of 30 three-inch cannon shells was removed from their base at a battery position at the Pennsylvania Monument on Hancock Ave. Damage amounted to hundreds of dollars, Park officials said.

ONE INJURED, $3,125 DAMAGE IN 4 CRASHES

One person was hurt and damage totaled $3,125 in four accidents investigated during the night by state police from the local substation.

Injured was Jean M. Rentzel, 27, of 152 Lumber St., Littlestown, whose car was demolished this morning at 4:45 o'clock two miles south of Abbotstown on Route 194, when the vehicle left the highway and smashed into a tree.

Damage to the car was estimated at $600. The driver was removed to the Hanover Hospital for treatment of lacerations of the left leg, a possible fracture of the left foot and bruises of forehead.

FINE FAIRFIELD MAN

Melvin H. Leatherman, 51, Franklin St., Fairfield, damaged his car to the extent of $300 and paid a fine for driving too fast for conditions after crashing into a rock south of here on the Emmitsburg road about 200 feet north of Five Star Restaurant. Police said Leatherman was driving south behind four vehicles, two cars, and two flat-bed tractor trailers owned by Moss Trucking Co., Charlotte, N.C., and sought to pass the line of traffic.

As Leatherman was passing the vehicles, Olin Stegall, Charlotte, N.C., driver of the first truck in line, which carried a huge boiler enroute to North Carolina, put on the truck's turn signals preparatory to turning in to the Five Star Restaurant. He and the driver of the empty second truck, Cleus Jones, Mooresville, N.C., were planning to eat and then spent the night in the Gettysburg area while obtaining permits for the huge cargo to pass through Maryland today.

Stegall glanced in his rear view mirrors, saw the Leatherman car approaching, and continued straight ahead. Leatherman in the meantime, noting the turn signals on the truck, drove off the road, fearing that an accident would occur when the truck turned. His car went off the berm and struck a rock, doing $300 damage to the vehicle, shearing off its left front wheel among other damage.

Police charged Leatherman with driving too fast for conditions and following a hearing before Justice John Whitman he paid a $10 fine and costs.

CRASH FRIDAY NIGHT

Damage totaled $950 but no one was reported injured when two cars collided seven miles north of here on Route 15 at 10:35 Friday night. State police said James K. McCutcheon, 58, Narberth, slowed his car for another vehicle in front and his auto was struck in the rear by another southbound car operated by Lewis Thomas, 46, Buffalo, N.Y. Damage was $450 to Thomas and $500 to McCutcheon.

Three cars were involved and damage was estimated at $1,275 in an accident six miles west of here on the Lincoln Highway Friday night at 8:20. Police listed no injuries. According to the officers Larry Crosswhite, 26, of Hanover, slowed for a car attempting to make a left turn ahead of him.

Dr. Clifford Reynolds, 44, Wilkesville, Canada, whose car followed Crosswhite's also slowed. Police said the third vehicle, driven by Melissa Annie Martin, 17, Biglerville R. 2, was unable to halt quickly enough, and hit the rear of Dr. Reynolds' car driving it into the rear of Crosswhite's auto. Damage was estimated at $1,000 to the Canadian's auto, $75 to Crosswhite's and $200 to the Martin vehicle.

5 SOUTHERN GOVERNORS IN HUDDLE

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Governors of five Southern states huddled behind closed doors here Friday in a surprise session to discuss civil rights and apparently map strategy for the Democratic National Convention.

"We believe that our meeting has been beneficial, and we may have additional meetings in the future," said Louisiana Gov. John J. McKeithen, host for the session and spokesman for himself, Mississippi Gov. Paul B. Johnson, Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace and Arkansas Gov. Orval E. Faubus.

Florida's Gov. Farris Bryant, who left the session an hour earlier than the other chief executives, said he had to rush back to Tallahassee, his capital, because of state problems.

In Tallahassee Bryant said: "We met for an exchange of views on mutual problems. A wide range of subjects was discussed, but no plans for concerted action were arrived at. Those Southern governors attending the National Democratic Convention expect to review their conversations there."

The convention opens Aug. 24 at Atlantic City, N.J.

Gov. Johnson says he won't attend the national convention. The other governors are expected to go, although McKeithen has said he hasn't made up his mind about attending.

CASSIUS KEEPS WIFE "HIDDEN"

CHICAGO (AP) — Cassius Marcellus Clay, world heavyweight boxing champion and self-appointed bard of the fist, wouldn't talk about it or his wife.

Questioned by newsmen about his sudden decision to leave the ranks of bachelorhood, Clay proclaimed that what he had done was "all right."

About marriage, after a civil ceremony in Gary, Ind., a few hours earlier, "It's all right," too, he responded.

Clay and Sonji Roy, a former model, were married in the Indiana steel manufacturing center, then motored to Chicago where they spent the night at a South Side motel.

Clay met newsmen, but his new wife did not make an appearance. To newsmen who questioned her absence, the champion said: "Muslim women keep in the background."

Clay is a member of the Black Muslim sect. Since announcing his membership, shortly after defeating Sonny Liston for the heavyweight title, Clay has gone by the name Muhammad Ali.

SCOTT SHUNS BIRCH BACKING

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says he can't accept the support of the John Birch Society because he is "opposed to the extremists of the right and the left."

Scott made the comment Friday in answer to a question at a news conference at the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre Airport, where he opened his campaign for reelection. Scott plans to campaign in 12 Pennsylvania counties over the weekend.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, the party's presidential nominee, said at the GOP unity meeting in Hershey on Wednesday that he would not refuse the Birch Society backing since the society is not on any list of subversive organizations. He said, however, that he found some of the published statements of Robert Welch, founder of the society, "stupid and ridiculous."

Scott, who said he would support the GOP national ticket, told a luncheon audience of some 400 Lackawanna and Luzerne county Republicans that to elect Barry Goldwater and Bill Miller, we Republicans will have to work as hard as all the time as hard as we can."

He said he does not believe the makeup of the Goldwater-Miller ticket will require him to work any harder for his election. He said he always works hard and has always been an early starter.

A warrant for Frank Rapock, 38, of Scranton, was filed as a detainee with the warden at Lackawanna County prison. Rapock is currently jailed on a variety of charges stemming from vice ring investigation, according to the FBI.

Togliatti is 71, and the question of a successor can't be dodged. The Rome newspaper Paese Sera said the stroke had apparently left him partially paralyzed.

COUNTY BUYS FILM READER

The Adams County commissioners Friday afternoon purchased a Filmac 200-R Reader Printer from the Thermo-Fax Sales Inc., Harrisburg, for $1,485.

In addition, the machine is capable of making a print, either 18 by 24 or 12 by 18 as desired, of the item shown on the microfilm. The county's principal use will be to print the microfilmed deeds as needed to check the bounds and measures against the maps.

The group will include the commissioners and their wives, County Solicitor and Mrs. Eugene R. Hartman and Commissioners Clerk and Mrs. M. Hardy Nichols. Ailes Says A. P. Hill Is "Satisfactory"

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Army Stephen Ailes says facilities at Camp A. P. Hill in Virginia, training ground of the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, "are at a satisfactory though austere training support level."

Ailes wrote Sen. A. Willis Robertson, D-Va., that since A. P. Hill is used solely for field training it is operated on a "tent city principle" in that all quarters, messing facilities and unit administrative offices are housed under canvas.

The camp has been the subject of recent complaints by some Pennsylvania national guardsmen. The complaining guardsmen say permanent construction, including barracks, are needed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican vice presidential nominee William E. Miller promised today he and Sen. Barry Goldwater "will give all the help we can" to every GOP candidate who seeks a hand from the national ticket.

And he said Republican senators, representatives and governors who want to serve effectively can do it best by backing the national ticket.

The New York congressman's forum was a meeting of Republican state chairmen and finance chiefs from the 50 states.

"I am not here today to preach harmony between any so-called factions of the Republican party because I know it isn't necessary," Miller said in his prepared pep talk.

Then, both affirming Republican solidarity and taking a poke at President Johnson, Miller said "Republicans all over the country who want to defeat Gentleman Bird in November" already have united.

The taunting reference to the President was a play on Mrs. Johnson's familiar nickname — Lady Bird — and their older daughter's name — Lynda Bird.

Before leaving Kyprianou told newsmen his Greek Cypriot government is not interested in any halfway solutions for the crisis involving the island's Greek and Turkish factions. He said the only way out is to give Cyprus complete and unfettered independence.

"There is no room for compromise along this line," he said.

After Kyprianou's arrival in Athens, usually reliable sources said he was carrying an urgent message from President Archbishop Makarios regarding Sunday's 24-hour visit by U.N. mediator Sakari Tuomioja.

ing to base each room on a different facet of county history, displaying what we have to its best advantage. Not all the rooms are completed. We rely almost entirely on volunteer help and personally I think the members of the society have done a tremendous job since the society moved here three years ago. They are all busy people, but they have devoted many hours to this work."

REPRODUCE OLD ROOMS

Two of the rooms have been converted into an old school building, with the text books of 80 years or more ago lying on desks of the same vintage. Initials carved by countians in the desks are still visible. On the walls of the reconstructed class rooms are pictures that hung in schools of the county many years ago. Dr. Glatfelter explained to the commissioners that "these text books of a bygone year bring memories to the older people. To youngsters a glance through a geography of let us say 80 years ago, in comparison to present day geography, would give a very important history lesson."

In rooms only partially completed which will depict typical rooms in county homes in prior years, the commissioners found such items as old-fashioned stereoscopic viewers and an Edison phonograph complete with the wax roll records, in their original boxes bearing the "Edison Gold Mould Records," trademark.

Among rooms completed or nearly completed, as shown to the commissioners, are the Hill room — which recreates the living room of Dr. Hill, Gettysburg dentist of the last century, whose furniture was donated intact by descendants. The commissioners agreed the room "equals the best in any museum."

"PREHISTORY" ROOM
Also completed, although additions are made from time to time, is the Dr. Henry Stewart room, set up with the furniture and many of the records and equipment of the late Dr. Stewart who was a pioneer in many fields including electricity and X-ray equipment.

In displaying the "prehistory" room, Dr. Glatfelter paid tribute to Barton Olinger and Ray Menges for their work in finding relics and displaying them in the room.

Included are stones from the Trostle Quarry near York Springs bearing the imprint of dinosaurs, numerous rock specimens from throughout the county and many Indian relics found in the county, all displayed in professional fashion.

Two rooms nearing completion house the clothing of an earlier day, including the uniform of a member of an Adams County band of the 1880's.

Also displayed was the vault constructed in the basement of the building to hold the most valuable items of the society. Among the articles kept in the vault is the Gettys family Bible.

BUSINESS IS SPENDING MORE

By JACK LEFLER

AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The boom in corporations' capital spending is stepping up its pace.

Big outlays for new plant and equipment were announced during the week by companies in the metals, chemicals, utility and other fields.

The accelerated spending was attributed to benefits from the income tax cut and good business in general.

Reynolds Metals Co., an aluminum producer, announced a four-year, $140-million program of plant additions and improvements. Additions or technical improvements will be made to several of the company's existing mining, aluminum, reduction and fabricating facilities.

Bethlehem Steel Co. will undertake a new $30-million program which will boost its capital spending budget for 1964 to a record $350 million. The latest allocation will go for a tinning plant at the Sparrows Point, Md., plant, added facilities for the production and shipping of structural steel shapes and the installation of burnt lime facilities at the Lackawanna works near Buffalo, N.Y., and railway axle-manufacturing facilities at Johnstown, Pa.

Production Soars In U. S. Factories

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economic boom passed new milestones last month as factory production scored an 11th consecutive advance and the government reported a breakthrough in the fight against unemployment.

Industrial production for July was 5 1/2 per cent higher than a year ago and stood at 132.7 on the Federal Reserve Board's index of factory and mine output that uses 100 for the 1957-59 period as a base.

The Labor Department, analyzing employment and unemployment figures for the first seven months of 1964, reported that employment during the period averaged 1.6 million above 1963 levels. At the same time the labor force increased by an average of only 1.4 million.

CROW INDIANS MAKE MRS. LBJ ONE OF TRIBE

By FRANCES LEWINE

JACKSON, Wyo. (AP) — Barnstorming Lady Bird Johnson won over the Crow Indians and headed for Mormon territory today as "Pretty Walking Bird."

That's the name bestowed on the First Lady in a colorful tribal ceremony in which she was adopted by the plains tribe on a visit to their vast reservation near Billings, Mont., Friday.

Today Mrs. Johnson's schedule took her to Utah to ride an aerial tramway, meet with David O. McKay, 90, president of the 2-million-member Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (Mormons) and speak at the University of Utah.

Far from a simple sightseeing excursion, the four-day Western trip of the President's wife was taking on more and more political significance.

GOLDWATER SIGNS

She was treated to a sampling of pro-Goldwater sentiment in this tourist spot nestled beneath the ruggedly spectacular Teton Mountains. "We Want Barry" signs were waved amid a crowd of some 2,000 that filled the town's park for a welcome for the First Lady Friday night.

Mrs. Johnson covered more than 2,000 miles, spent more than seven hours in her chartered plane, and took in a panorama of the West in her 18-hour first day of travel. She concentrated on Montana, where several thousand turned out to see her at the Billings Airport and the Crow Reservation.

At the Crow Reservation tribal chiefs and warrior braves in costume and eagle feather headdress, with silver bells jangling on their feet, escorted Mrs. Johnson to a dancing, singing ceremony in her honor in a new gymnasium of their tribal building.

SURPRISE HONOR

The adoption of the First Lady into the tribe came as a surprise. The chiefs had voted in secret session the night before her arrival to accord her the honor and to give her the tribal name of "Dagak - Deedit - Chish" — Pretty Walking Bird.

Two squaws then took the First Lady by the arm to a war dance before the tribal chiefs and the assembly.

Mrs. Johnson, surprised, smilingly stepped with them to the beat of a huge drum pounded by eight Indians. Later the two oldest members of the tribe, Lizzie Yellowtail, 100, and Plain Feather, 97, invoked prayers for her.

The last person similarly honored by the Crows was the late President John F. Kennedy, adopted by the tribe when he was a senator.

Ask Damages For Walkout By UAW

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Boeing Co. has filed suit against the United Auto Workers, seeking damages of $150,000 a day for the duration of a walkout at its Vertol division plant in nearby Morton.

Boeing claims the walkout, which had idled 4,300 workers, violates its labor contract. Jack Cashmere, president of Auto Workers Local 1069, said the union had sent the company a disavowal of the strike and was urging the workers to return.

The walkout reportedly stemmed from disciplinary layoffs given some employees for refusal to work overtime.

RED-BACKED REBELS PUSH ON IN CONGO

By ROBIN MANNOCK

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Communist-backed rebel forces are stepping up their bid to win control of the turbulent Congo as U.S. planes begin ferrying hard-pressed government troops to troubled spots.

Renewed rebel assaults broke out Friday 700 miles apart in the vast and mineral-rich nation amid new evidence the Chinese Communists are backing the insurgents. U.S. officials discussed the government's plight with Premier Moise Tshombe while in Washington the U.S. role touched off a debate.

Rebel forces advanced to within 12 miles of Bukavu, the capital of central Kivu Province.

In the west, Peking-trained Pierre Mulele's warriors came within 20 miles south of Kikwit in Kwilu Province. His forces total more than 2,000 men, reports said.

The rebel thrusts came as four U.S. C-130 planes took off on their first mission to aid the shaky government army. More than 100 Americans, including 40 paratroopers, arrived Friday.

A military source said one of the four U.S. cargo planes flew to Bukavu, where six rebels were reported killed and several others captured.

Biloxi Controls Its Desegregation

By GAVIN SCOTT

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — With one crisis past, this resort city hoped today to make its school desegregation so quiet the tourists won't know anything unusual is afoot.

Registration of Negroes at previously all-white elementary schools took place Friday with strict policing insuring quiet.

The next test — the opening of classes — comes Aug. 31.

"We don't anticipate one bit of trouble," said R. D. Brown, city school superintendent, who was plainly pleased by the tranquil proceeding.

Only 17 Negroes were among the 742 who signed up for first-grade classes at the 10 schools, but it was a historic occasion — Mississippi's first crack in classroom racial barriers below the college level.

Today's Talk

EXCEPT TO GROW

Browning has left to us so many great thoughts and questionings, like this, for instance: "Why stay we on the earth except to grow?"

If we spend a lifetime in gathering to us earthly gains that serve only our own selfish ends — in a day they may be swept from under our very feet. Nothing in this existence, however, can rob us of our right of character and courage, or our knowledge, or our consciousness of happy service, or our love of beauty or our sympathy and understanding toward those we love or to whom we administer.

Our lives are shrouded in mystery. We are forever questioning. But this we know for a certainty — we are here in this world to grow! And if we do not grow life shrinks in its importance and our hearts faint under an unequal struggle.

The richest man in any community is that one whose mind and heart throbs most in harmony with the forces of God and the experiences of those who see in His works and creations an exhaustless reign of love and beauty.

To love and to appreciate is ever to grow. To search, to learn, to adapt, to listen, to serve — humbly and silently, perhaps — to swallow defeat as good medicine, to be modest and fearless in great victories, unspoiled by applause, to bear gross criticism and the mean snarl of the bigoted and shriveled in mind and heart — this is to grow. It is to have grown great!

If, with the years, the music seems sweeter, the colorings of Autumn more glorious, the breaking of Spring more divine, and the fellowships of friends more precious, then growth has entered the soul and the worth of character explains itself.

Except as man or woman grows, how can either enter into that station of happiness whereby each grasps the opportunities of life with hope and enthusiasm?

Just Folks

PERMANENCY
Since Fame is brief and life is long,
And but a little while 'tis plain
However swift, however strong,
The champion can place
retain,
One wonders what there is on earth
Of triumph to outlive its day
Of solid and enduring worth
Which others cannot take away.

It seems with every passing year
We write record books anew.
Younger and stronger men appear
Some past performance to outdo.
The laurel moves from brow to brow.
Not long the reign of might can last,
For what's considered greatness now
May tomorrow be surpassed.

Time saps the strength and dims the eye,
Though stout his heart and swift his pace,
Ere many months have journeyed by
Another comes to take his place.
Then what is there from life to gain
Of glory born of work and play
Which man can strive for and retain
And others cannot snatch away?

No man can kinder be than he
Who has it in him to be kind,
Nor can another truer be
Than he who keeps the truth in mind;
Who strives his best from day to day
To play the man and play the friend
Gains fame which none can take away
And shall be honored to the end.

Vestal Stallsmith, a proofreader for The Gettysburg Times, and a brother, H. Dean Wisler, both at home.

CONGRESS IS TAKING LOOK AT CBS DEAL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is casting an increasingly wary eye on the $11.2-million deal that gives the Columbia Broadcasting System majority ownership of the New York Yankees.

Congressional reaction to the surprise transaction — already approved by the American League — includes demands that professional baseball be subjected to the antitrust laws.

Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., of the powerful House Judiciary Committee said Friday the sale "indicates baseball is big business."

Celler, who also is chairman of the Judiciary Committee's antitrust subcommittee, said "the bars must be put up and the baseball clubs subjected to the antitrust laws."

Professional baseball now operates under limited exemption from antitrust laws. The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee recently approved a bill to clarify the exemption and extend it to other professional sports.

But Sens. Kenneth D. Keating and Jacob K. Javits, New York Republicans, said there should be no quick condemnation of the sale even though they agreed there would be surface points that merit inquiry.

33 HOMING PIGEONS LOST

WESTMINSTER, Md. (AP)—"If they haven't come back now, they're not going to make it." And with those words, Sam Acree conceded that an 850-mile flight of 33 homing pigeons was a "smash," pigeon fancier lingo for a failure.

The birds were released May 2—12 weeks ago—at St. Petersburg, Fla., by Mrs. William Depp. They should have made it back to their Carroll County roosts in two days.

"The last I saw of them they were flying west over the Gulf of Mexico," she said.

Acree admitted that 850 miles was an unusually long race. "Most people stop them at 600 miles."

Acree, whose 112-acre farm near here serves as headquarters for the Pennsylvania-Maryland Racing Pigeon Club, said his club will start to train for its next series of races in September with young birds hatched since Jan. 1 of this year.

"We'll start out at 100 miles and go 150, 200 and then, if the weather's good, go 300," he said.

BOLIN BLANKS
BRAVES; PHILS
WIDEN MARGIN
WITH TWO WINS

By BOB GREEN

Down in Hickory Grove, S.C., where Bob Bolin comes from, they'll tell you the 6-foot-4 right-hander is big enough to go bear hunting with a switch.

Only they don't have any bears in the National League. They've got Cardinals and Dodgers and Reds and Pirates and even Mets. But no bears.

So, at the request of manager Al Dark, who desperately needs some pitching help, Bolin went hunting. He shot last night. And he shot them down with a sparkling one-hitter that kept San Francisco within hailing distance of the league lead.

HOMERS HELPED

Only a line single by Milwaukee catcher Ed Bailey spoiled Bolin's bid for a no-hitter. He got home run support from Willie McCovey, Orlando Cepeda and Willie Mays in the 3-0 victory that left the second-place Giants four games back of Philadelphia.

The frisky young Phils picked up a half game with a double victory over the New York Mets, 6-1 and 6-4 behind the pitching of veteran Jim Bunning and rookie Rick Wise.

Pittsburgh and Chicago split a doubleheader in the only National League day action, the Pirates winning the first 3-2 and the Cubs the nightcap 4-2. Houston fought off Cincinnati 3-2, and St. Louis edged Los Angeles 4-3 in the others.

MAY BE STARTER NOW

Bolin, a hard-throwing 25-year-old who has spent four years as a relief man and spot starter for the Giants, was pressed into duty by Dark to help bolster the Giants' injury-depleted pitching corps.

His performance may have been enough to win him a permanent starting role. He walked six, struck out the same and kept his composure when two men reached on errors.

The homers—the only hits the Giants got—were more than enough support. It was Mays' 35th, Cepeda's 21st and McCovey's 17th.

The Phils, meanwhile, had little trouble with the Mets. Bunning, who had pitched a perfect game the last time he worked in Shea Stadium, was touched for five hits in the opener, but won his 13th. Richie Allen had three doubles, scored two runs and drove in another.

In the second game, the 19-year-old Wise allowed only six hits before he tired in the eighth. Two of the hits were homers by New York's Ed Kanepp. Ex-Met Frank Thomas drove in five runs in the two games, including two on a seventh-inning homer in the nightcap.

Jerry Lynch's two-out homer in the ninth drove in two runs and made the difference in Pittsburgh's first game victory at Chicago. The nightcap was settled on a tie-breaking two-run homer by the Cubs' Andre Rodgers in the sixth.

CARDS BUNCH HITS

The Cards bunched all their runs in the fifth inning in the victory over the Dodgers. Julian Javier drove in two with a triple, Radecki singled in another and still another, the eventual winner, crossed on Ewell Oliver's throwing error.

Walt Bond had a hand in all the Colts runs. He tripled in the first against Cincinnati, scored the second and broke a 2-2 tie with his 17th homer in the seventh.

Optimist
Boys' League

The league champion Bullets turned back the Warriors 7-0 Friday evening to pull down the curtain on the 1964 season.

Dave Rosensteel was the big gun in the winner's attack with a perfect three-for-three. Dick Deener and Rick Newsham paced the Warriors by collecting four of their five safeties.

Rosensteel and Less Miller put together singles to produce the Bullets' first run in the initial frame. The winners went on to score four times in the third and climaxed the scoring with two in the fifth on singles by Bill Rodgers and Paul Kendeheart. Bill Briggs contributed to the four-run uprising with a tremendous two-run homer.

RICHIE ALLEN HAS SIX HITS

By JIM HACKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Richie Allen has been battling twin pressures all season long — and so far it's been no contest. Philadelphia's kid third baseman was spotlighted in the spring as a sure-shot bet to be the National League's Rookie of the Year and since then has been called upon to play a key role in the Phillies' drive for their first pennant since 1950.

Neither challenge has stymied Allen, who boosted his batting average to .314 with six hits Friday night as the front-running Phils swept a double-header from their favorite pasties, New York's last-place Mets, 6-1 and 6-4 and went four games ahead of runner-up San Francisco.

"There's been a lot written, but there's not much I can do about it, and I don't think it's had any effect," the soft-spoken 22-year-old from Wampum, Pa., said at Shea Stadium.

In nine years as head football coach, Paul Dietzel's teams show a 59-31 record. Three games have been ties. This is his third season at West Point. He had seven years at LSU.

BO BELINSKY
TO SEE LAWYER
ON SUSPENSION

By W. B. RAGSDALE Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "If they're going to suspend me without pay, fine. Let them give me my release. It was something out of my control."

So said Bo Belinsky, temperamental 27-year-old left-handed pitcher of the Los Angeles Angels, of his one-punch kayo of 64-year-old sports writer Braven Dyer.

Belinsky, suspended indefinitely by the Angels, is flying back to Los Angeles today to explain to General Manager Fred Haney why he socked — or shoved, as Belinsky explains it — the Los Angeles Times newsman.

DATE WITH LAWYER

He also said he has a date with his lawyer, Paul Caruso, to see "just what right the Los Angeles Angels have to suspend me without pay. I haven't even had a hearing. They haven't told me why I was suspended."

Manager Bill Rigney, whose team is in Washington for a four-game weekend series, would say only that Belinsky was "suspended indefinitely" for punching sports writer Braven Dyer.

Rigney reportedly said he didn't want Belinsky on his ball team any more and he wanted to get him out of town as soon as possible.

NEEDED STITCHES

As a result of the brief battle early Friday, Dyer required five stitches under his left ear. He reported it was badly swollen, and he had a black right eye.

Dyer said Friday afternoon: "It looks like I'm going to be all right, except right now I've got a little double vision."

Both Dyer and Belinsky agree about the fracas — to a point.

Both agree they met in the lobby late Thursday night and Dyer asked Belinsky about an Associated Press story reporting that he wanted to quit baseball if he could get a better job.

HOT ARGUMENT

After hearing Dyer's description of the story, both agree that Belinsky said he had been misquoted and gave Dyer some quotes about the AP story.

Several hours later, after Dyer got ready for bed, Belinsky telephoned him to say he had not been misquoted in the AP story, but Dyer said it was too late to do anything about his story.

Both agree they got into a hot argument that concluded when Belinsky said "You come down here and I'll stick your... head under the shower."

READY FOR FIGHT

Dyer, once a star college football player, said "A writer can't let a player get away with a threat like that. I dressed and went down to his room."

"After Dyer hung up the telephone," Belinsky said, "I thought the whole thing was closed. I was brushing my teeth and had my pajamas on when he knocked on the door. It took him 15 or 20 minutes to get there."

Dyer's description of what followed is brief: "I knocked on the door. We started talking, and that's all I remember."

Belinsky said Dyer hung his coat in the hall and came in prepared for a fight.

In nine years as head football coach, Paul Dietzel's teams show a 59-31 record. Three games have been ties. This is his third season at West Point. He had seven years at LSU.

GASTONIA, N. C.
WINS 4TH TIME

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Gastonia, N. C., is making a habit of winning the Veterans of Foreign Wars National Teener Baseball Championship.

The Carolinians won their fourth title in five years Friday, although they had to come from behind to do it. Once beaten in the double elimination tournament, Gastonia took two straight from previously undefeated West Allis, Wis., 8-0 and 5-4.

Two runs in the top of the seventh (last) inning provided the winning margin for Gastonia in the afternoon championship game. West Allis rallied for two in the bottom half of the inning, but fell one run short.

In the morning contest, Gastonia knocked West Allis' star hurler, 15-year-old Mark Belich, out of the box in the fourth inning. Belich earlier in the tournament had pitched a perfect game, the first such performance in the 12-year history of VFW National Teener competition here.

Despite his loss in the semifinal, he was named most valuable player in the tourney on the basis of the perfect game and a grand slam home run in another game.

COLTS, LIONS
TIE; EAGLES
RAIDERS WIN

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Colts scored in the last two minutes and earned a 28-28 tie with the Detroit Lions Friday night as the pro football exhibition season opened its second weekend.

The Kansas City Chiefs also scored in the last two minutes defeating the Buffalo Bills 24-21. The Philadelphia Eagles downed the Pittsburgh Steelers 24-13 and the Oakland Raiders whipped the Denver Broncos 20-7 in Friday's other games.

A total of 99,365 fans turned out for the four games, two between National League teams and two between American League outfits. Tops was the 46,582 attendance for the Colts-Lions game at Detroit.

6 GAMES TONIGHT

Six more games are on tap tonight. In the NFL, New York is at Green Bay, Cleveland at Los Angeles, Chicago meets Washington at Richmond, St. Louis battles Minnesota at Atlanta and Dallas takes on San Francisco at Portland, Ore. Houston and San Diego play at Little Rock in the only AFL game scheduled.

Baltimore's late touchdown was set up by a pass interference call on Gary Cuozzo's toss to John Mackey on a third down and nine situation. The interference gave Baltimore on a first down on the Detroit five from where Tom Matte plunged off tackle for the TD. Jim Martin's conversion tied the score.

A 42-yard pass from Len Dawson to Abner Haynes gave Kansas City its victory over the Bills before 17,738 at Buffalo.

Philadelphia scored its first victory for new coach Joe Kuharich, helped by Tom Brown's 62-yard touchdown run midway in the third period that put the Eagles ahead 21-13. It was Pittsburgh's opener.

Oakland ran up a 20-0 lead to easily beat the Broncos before 13,545 at Denver. Clem Daniels scored two touchdowns on passes, one a 62-yard play, to lead the Raiders.

The Carolinians won their fourth title in five years Friday, although they had to come from behind to do it. Once beaten in the double elimination tournament, Gastonia took two straight from previously undefeated West Allis, Wis., 8-0 and 5-4.

Two runs in the top of the seventh (last) inning provided the winning margin for Gastonia in the afternoon championship game. West Allis rallied for two in the bottom half of the inning, but fell one run short.

HADDIX STOPS
YANKEE GOLD
AS BIRDS WIN

By JOE REICHLER
BALTIMORE (AP)—On May 26, 1959, Harvey Haddix turned in what many believe to be the finest pitching performance ever. That night Haddix hurled 12 perfect innings for Pittsburgh against Milwaukee, but lost 1-0.

Friday night, five years, two months and three weeks later, Haddix, pitching for the Baltimore Orioles, worked only parts of two innings against the New York Yankees. In neither inning did he pitch perfect ball but Manager Hank Bauer and the rest of the Orioles will tell you it was the best relief job turned in by a Baltimore pitcher this year.

All the drama was packed into one inning, the seventh, when Haddix strode out of the bullpen and stopped the Yankees cold to pave the way for a 4-4 Baltimore triumph that boosted the Orioles' first place lead over third place New York to 4 1/2 games.

LEAD NARROWED

Steve Barber, Oriole starter, who already had beaten the Yankees three times this season, took a 4-2 lead into the seventh. Two walks and a double by Bobby Richardson narrowed Baltimore's lead to one run with Yankee runners on second and third and only one out.

Bauer summoned Haddix and the veteran reliever, who will be 39 next month, provided the largest gathering in Baltimore's American League history — 47,424 strong — with its greatest thrill.

The first batter he faced was Roger Maris and Harvey disposed of the dangerous left-handed hitter on three pitches, all strikes. Mickey Mantle was the next batter. Haddix purposely walked him filling the bases.

Now it was the switch hitting Tommy Tresh and Haddix struck him out, too, also on three pitches.

The danger was over. Barber's victory, his fourth over the Yankees, was saved.

Dairymen Should Consider Adding Wheat To Dairy Feed When Price Remains Low

THOMAS E. PIPER
Adams County Farm Agent

Lower prices paid to farmers for wheat means that dairymen should consider the use of wheat in grain mixtures for dairy cattle. When wheat furnishes part of a properly balanced concentrate mix, it is equal to shelled corn. Because of its pasty nature, the amount of wheat included in a ration should be limited to not over 35-50 per cent of the total grain mixture. For reasons of palatability wheat should not be finely ground. It should be crushed or ground to a medium fineness.

Thomas E. Piper

Numerous high-producing herds have been fed a concentrate mix containing 10-25 per cent wheat for long periods of time with satisfactory results. Do not feed wheat that is moldy.

HIGH IN PROTEIN

Wheat contains 80 per cent total digestible nutrients (TDN) compared to about 73 per cent for old ear corn and 80 per cent for shelled corn. Its crude protein content, however, is higher than corn. Wheat contains an average of 10.2 per cent crude protein as contrasted to 7.4 per cent for old ear corn and 8.6 per cent for shelled corn. Slightly less protein supplement may be needed if considerable amounts of wheat are used in the grain mixture.

When price relationships are favorable, wheat may replace corn on a pound for pound basis, up to a total of 35-50 per cent of the grain mixture. If used in conjunction with heavy grains such as shelled corn and barley, it is suggested that the level of wheat be limited to 20-25 per cent of the mix or less. This lower level also is suggested for cows being fed a limited-forage, high concentrate ration. Based on current price relationships for corn and protein supplements, either wheat or barley could be used to good advantage as a feed for dairy cows. Some dairymen should consider feeding rather than selling their wheat. Others, short on grain, might find it more profitable to purchase wheat or barley for feeding rather than old ear corn or shelled corn.

WINTER BARLEY YIELD

Pennrad is a new winter barley developed at the Pennsylvania Agricultural Experiment Station. It is beardless like Wong but otherwise is similar to Hudson.

Pennrad is high yielding. In four years of research tests and two years of extension demonstrations totaling 37 locations, Pennrad out yielded Hudson by one bushel per acre and Wong by ten bushels per acre.

It has exceptional winter hardiness. Tests indicate that Pennrad will be much more dependable than Wong in central and Northern Pennsylvania areas where winter barley is grown at present.

It is quite stiff-strawed for winter barley and is resistant to scald and powdery mildew diseases.

The development of Pennrad makes growing winter barley less hazardous where winter killing is a problem. Seed of Pennrad variety will be available in considerable quantity for planting this fall.

Eradication of hog cholera in the United States is progressing rapidly. Most of the major swine producing states are already in Phase Two of the National Hog Cholera Eradication Program. This means that they are actively finding and eliminating the disease wherever it breaks out.

Four states, Montana, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming have already reached Phase Four of the program which means that they are already free of the disease.

Pennsylvania has just begun Hog Cholera Eradication. We have several advantages other states do not have: Our swine herds are fairly well scattered. We have had compulsory garbage cooking for swine for many years. We have a large force of well qualified veterinarians, and we have six well-equipped diagnostic laboratories placed where they are readily accessible for service. Dr. Sam Guss, extension veterinarian at Penn State, says that there is no good reason why hog cholera cannot be eliminated from Pennsylvania within five years.

HARRISBURG (AP)—County treasurers' offices will begin accepting applications for antlerless deer licenses Sept. 21 with the licenses themselves being issued Nov. 9.

The antlerless season is Dec. 14 and 15.

The state Game Commission announced Friday that 274,000 licenses will be issued this year—an increase of 70,000 from last season.

Today In Washington
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has asked 77 college and university presidents to beat the bushes for prospective government employees.

Lunching with them at the White House Thursday, the President told the educators they might be proud if they could contribute an Abraham Lincoln, an Oliver Wendell Holmes, an Arthur Vandenberg or a Sam Rayburn—or two.

The university and college presidents were asked to write the President or to telephone one of his assistants about any "really excellent, outstanding students who you think might be drawn into tours of public service."

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House voted Thursday to spend $965 million next year for housing, mostly to clear slums. The vote was 308 to 65.

President Johnson had asked $1.4 billion for two years of urban renewal and $1.8 billion for housing over-all. What the House did was give him about half of what he wanted.

The Senate has passed a similar, although more extensive, bill. The two versions must be meshed before the legislation is sent to the White House.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Aeronautics and Space Administration says it is ready for a first—using a satellite already in orbit to help direct another satellite into the proper orbit.

The feat will be attempted next Tuesday when Syncom II, a communications satellite in near stationary orbit 22,300 miles above the mid-Pacific, will assist Syncom C, a sister satellite, after its launching from Cape Canaveral, Fla.

The orbit chosen for Syncom C is the same as Syncom II's—to hover above the international dateline at the equator.

Where Syncom II will come in is to relay radio communications from the Pacific, thus bypassing weather conditions and ionospheric disturbances frequent between surface points. These communications will be used to help get Syncom C in proper orbit.

Peach Originated In China; Is Symbol Of Immortality

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON
Extension Home Economist

The peach, one of our favorite foods today, was probably first grown in China, where it was considered symbolic of long life and immortality. It has been reported that early explorers of North America found peaches growing wild and Indians cultivating them.

MRS. TUNISON

Today, we know the peach as a versatile and highly popular fruit. It lends itself to many uses—alone or in combination with other fruits for salads, desserts, or snacks.

Peach varieties are of two basic types — clingstone and freestone. The flesh of clingstone varieties clings to the stone; that of freestone pulls away easily from the stone. Both types include white-fleshed and yellow-fleshed varieties.

Freestone varieties are popular as a dessert fruit or for home canning. If you plan to pickle peaches, you may prefer the cling variety for its firm flesh.

When you shop for peaches, select ones that are free from blemishes. The fruit should have a fresh appearance and the flesh should be firm or fairly firm. Don't be confused by color. A red blush or color is not a dependable sign of maturity. Because peaches are highly perishable, select them a short time before you plan to use fresh or to can or freeze.

PEACH DESSERT CONTEST

Girls living in Adams County and between the age of 15 and 21 are eligible to enter the Peach Dessert contest August 18. The contest will be held at the Fred Grist Jr. farm in Biglerville at 3 p.m. A picnic supper will be served and the announcement of the winner will be given there. Prizes for the event include a $25 bond from the Fruitgrowers Association and the chance to represent Adams County at the state contest.

Each entrant prepares her product at home prior to the contest and brings three copies of the recipe. Some winning entries from past years were the following:

PEACH UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

Ingredients:
1/2 cup butter
3/4 cup brown sugar, packed
6 peaches medium size
2 cups cake flour

1 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup granulated sugar
1 egg beaten
1/4 teaspoon almond extract
1/4 cup milk

Melt 3 tablespoons butter in a 9-inch pan. Add brown sugar and heat slowly until sugar and butter are blended. Peel peaches, cut in half, remove stones, and arrange cut side down in the butter-sugar mixture in pan. Sift flower, measure, and re-shift three times with baking powder and salt. Cream remaining butter; blend in granulated sugar, cream thoroughly. Add egg and beat until light and fluffy. Stir in extract. Add sifted dry ingredients and milk alternately in three or four portions, beginning and ending with flour and beating well after each addition. Pour batter over peaches and bake in a moderate oven (350 F) about 40 minutes in cake pan, then turn out on large serving plate. Top of cake can be decorated with a half of a maraschino red cherry in the center of the half of peaches.

PEACH TARTS

Pastry Shell
2 cups flour
1/2 cup shortening
1/4 cup water
1/4 cup of grape jelly

Filling
1 cup vanilla wafer crumbs
1/2 cup cinnamon and sugar mixture

4 peaches
Cut shortening into flour using pastry blender or two knives. Add water a small amount at a time until all ingredients are well mixed and form a ball when pushed together. Roll dough into small circles to fit custard cups. Flute edges. Place one teaspoon vanilla wafer crumbs in each shell. Wash, halve, and peel peaches. Roll each half peach in sugar mixture and place in pastry shell and sprinkle with remaining sugar. Place one-half teaspoon of jelly in center of each peach half. Place all cups on a cookie sheet and bake in a 350 degree oven for one-half hour. May be served with whipped cream.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Closes $500,000 Restaurant Rather Than Serve Negroes

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Restaurant owner Lester Maddox pledged to continue his court fight to desegregate his place rather than admit Negroes.

"I'd be a fool if I didn't take it to the U.S. Supreme Court," he told about 80 spectators and newsmen gathered outside the lunch inside.

With tears streaming down his cheeks, Maddox said he was confident that "with the help of almighty God and free people everywhere, the court will say to Congress you have violated the Constitution."

KILLED MY BUSINESS

"They have killed my business and helped kill the American free enterprise system," he sobbed.

The scene took place shortly after two Atlanta Negro students, Calvin Jones and Gary Robinson, sought service. Maddox met them at the door of the Pickrick.

He called them Communists, then shouted, "You've stolen my business. Get out of my door. You've just put 66 people out of work."

Of the 65 employees at the $500,000 restaurant, 44 are Negroes, he said. All will be taken care of as long as "there is a dime in the checkbook," he declared.

A three-judge federal court issued a ruling July 22 directing Maddox to comply with the public accommodations section of the civil rights law. The court set Tuesday, Aug. 11, as the date for compliance.

RACIAL AGITATORS

Maddox posted a sign on the front door of his restaurant Thursday in which he said in part that, "the first Communist-inspired racial agitators to enter this entrance and demand service — will put us out of business."

He didn't explain what he meant. But after the two Negroes appeared — and then were escorted away by police, but not arrested — he slammed the door shut and told the crowd: "My president, my Congress and the Communists have closed my business and ended a childhood dream."

"I don't know what I am going to do. They gave me a citation for contempt of court. I might get a rest in the penitentiary."

This seemed unlikely. Civil contempt proceedings, unlike criminal contempt, are normally aimed only at gaining compliance with a court order.

But the crowd cheered. Maddox closed the Bible he'd been reading from during portions of the talk and the people drifted off.

Public Works Bill Is In Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — A $4.4 billion public works appropriation bill, which includes funds for the Atomic Energy Commission and many water projects for the year starting July 1, has been agreed upon by a House-Senate conference committee.

The bill passed the house at a total of $4,325,969,000. The Senate amendments, which would indicate a total of about $4.4 billion.

Rep. Michael J. Kirwin, D-Ohio, chairman of the House conferees, has not yet released details of the bill, which was passed Thursday. He said the delay in explaining details would allow committee staffs sufficient time to assemble all the necessary information.

The measure includes money to be used by Army engineers and the Reclamation bureau in planning and building water projects in virtually all of the states.

SCOTT OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although he still lacks a Democratic opponent in his bid for re-election, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., formally opens his campaign this weekend with a tour of 12 counties.

So long as major votes do not require his presence in Washington, Scott said Thursday he will travel by airplane, helicopter and automobile to Lehigh, Luzerne, Lackawanna, Wayne, Susquehanna, Potter, McKean, Westmoreland, Washington, Fayette, Bedford and Schuylkill counties.

His first stop was a scheduled appearance Friday at the Allentown fair followed by a luncheon marking the official opening of his campaign at the Scranton-Wilkes-Barre airport.

Scott said the most important issues in the campaign will be jobs and economic progress.

"I expect to conduct this campaign not with the bitterness of unreasoning partisanship, but rather in the spirit of what is best for Pennsylvania," Scott said.

Security Measures Imposed In Biloxi

BILLOXI, Miss. (AP) — Extensive security measures were imposed Friday on first grader registration for the first public school desegregation in Mississippi.

The Gulf Coast resort of Biloxi is under federal court orders to desegregate, starting with first grades.

Actual classroom work will not begin until Aug. 31. Security measures included prohibiting newsmen and photographers from the vicinity of the 10 grade schools during registration hours, prohibiting crowds from gathering and keeping traffic moving near the schools.

BIGGEST MAIL ROBBERY IS NOT SOLVED

By HENRY SUPPLE

BOSTON (AP) — Two years ago Friday a man in a policeman's uniform raised his hand to halt a small mail truck in historic Plymouth. When the truck stopped it was robbed of $1,551,277 — the biggest cash haul in United States history.

From that day to this, a band of postal inspectors, 60 on the average, has worked for a solution. The robbers, believed to number six, have not been apprehended. And the money has not been found.

William F. White, chief postal inspector for New England, has been in charge of the case from the outset. A mild, affable and dedicated man of 55, he still is optimistic the crime will be solved.

TWO WITNESSES

Only witnesses to the holdup were the driver of the mail truck, Philip Schena, and the guard who rode at his side, Patrick Barrett.

Their truck was carrying 16 sealed bags of cash from Cape Cod banks, en route to the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston, when it was halted along Route 3 in Plymouth.

Barrett has recounted many times for investigators what happened at dusk on Aug. 14, 1962. His story goes like this:

"We were driving along at a steady pace when a car passed us at about 80 miles an hour. Then a police officer — we thought he was — stepped out on the road and flagged us down."

Barrett didn't know the uniformed man was one of the bandits.

WERE UNDISTURBED

After the mail truck had passed Clark Road, which turns off Route 3 into Plymouth, the pseudo policeman placed a detour sign at the junction. The sign diverted traffic from Route 3 down Clark Road and left the gunmen undisturbed as they slid from shrubbery and pointed shotguns at the men on the truck.

Barrett said: "We noticed a couple of cars beside the road and thought there might have been an accident. As soon as we stepped four guys jumped us. They all wore white gloves."

"They leaped into the truck, shoved us in the back of it and said 'Keep quiet; don't say anything.' Then we were tied up."

"STILL DETERMINED"

The robbers drove the mail truck for about 25 miles to the north. Along the way they tossed out the money bags to confederates. About an hour and a half later, the bandits abandoned the truck. Barrett and Schena loosed their bonds and notified police.

White, who began his postal career in 1929 as a substitute letter carrier, was appointed chief of the New England district less than a year before the robbery.

In reiterating his belief the gang will be caught some day, White pointed out that the postal service has a record of 99 per cent convictions.

And he added: "We still are determined to bring this case to a successful conclusion."

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union said Friday it will not embarrass its Asian and African friends by pressing its claim to a seat at the Bandung conference. But it blasted Communist China for trying to bar the door.

In a statement to African and Asian governments, the Soviets said they felt their participation was "not obligatory."

The statement appeared to be a concession to friendly African and Asian governments which reportedly urged Moscow to give up its attempt to force its way into the forthcoming parley and touch off a threatened Red Chinese walkout.

State Leads List In Rehabilitation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Almost 120,000 disabled men and women were rehabilitated for jobs during the year ended June 30 under the state-federal vocational rehabilitation program, the Welfare Department announced today.

The record high of 119,708 was an increase of 9 per cent over the total of 110,136 for the year ended June 30, 1963.

Pennsylvania led the states in the number of disabled persons rehabilitated, with 11,581, up 704 from 1963. New York came second with 8,103. Georgia was third with 6,803, and North Carolina was fourth with 6,737. The totals were new records for each state.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE AGNEW FAMILY OF MARSH CREEK

Final notes on the Withrow family of Tom's Creek, Maryland, and Lower Marsh Creek, Adams County, Pennsylvania, listing a few additional burials, not previously noted, in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard.

24. "Sacred — to the memory of — Harriet Newell Withrow — daughter of David and Nancy — Withrow — Born May 6, 1832 — Died February 1868."

Note:—This inscription is self-explanatory.

25. "In memory of — Mary R. Crooks — Withrow — wife of Washington W. Withrow — Born May 23, 1832 — Died March 17, 1911."

26. "In memory of — Washington W. Withrow — Born February 22, 1833 — Died February 27, 1892."

This concludes, unless some additional material comes to light, the historical and genealogical notes on the Withrow family.

The Agnew family, pioneer settlers in the Marsh Creek Settlement is what is now Adams County, Pennsylvania, is an old and illustrious one. The burial plot of this can, located in the "old section" of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian churchyard, is quite large and all of the graves appear to be marked. Here is to be found, still in a good state of preservation, the only graves bearing a family coat-of-arms in this burial ground. There may have been others. If so, they have long since disappeared and all record of them lost. The black slate coat-of-arms marker designates the grave of the pioneer ancestor of the Agnew family in this county and the inscription cut thereon is as follows:

1. "Here Lies the Body of — John Agnew, who departed this life October, The 2d, 1770 — Aged 59 years."

"In Memory of — Rebecca Agnew — Wife of James Agnew — Who Departed this Life — The 25th of December 1789 — Aged 82 years."

The first James Agnew came to America about the year 1711. It is believed that he first settled at the "Forks of the Delaware" later moving on to Donegal in Lancaster County. It is a matter of record that in 1738 he took up a tract of land on Marsh Creek in what was then York County, but is now included within the bounds of Adams County, Pennsylvania. This "plantation" was on Lick Run. That same year (1738) James Agnew moved his family to the new home on the frontier.

James (1) Agnew was twice married. His first wife, about whom little if anything is known, was the mother of his first two children, namely John (2) Agnew and Janet (2) Agnew. Margaret Agnew, the first wife of the pioneer, probably died at Donegal and is buried there in the old Presbyterian churchyard in a grave that is now unmarked.

After the death of his first wife James (1) Agnew was married for the second time to Rebecca (or Rebecca) Scott, the daughter of the pioneer, Abraham Scott. Sometimes later Janet (2) Agnew, the daughter of James (1) Agnew by his first wife, married Hugh Scott, a younger brother of her father's second wife.

During the French and Indian Wars James (1) Agnew served as a Captain in the York County Associates — said term of service beginning in 1756. He died before the outbreak of the War of the American Revolution but four of the sons, by his second marriage, took part in that conflict.

Nine children were born to the marriage of James (1) and Rebecca (Scott) Agnew — as follows —

1. Samuel (1) Agnew — born January 29, 1738 — married a

Miss Searight.

Note:— According to some genealogists James (1) Agnew had a brother, Samuel (1) Agnew, who accompanied him to America and also settled in the "Manor of the Masque (or Maske)." This brother was buried in the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian graveyard (better known as "Black's") and his grave was well marked. Like so many other gravestones in that particular burial ground this old marker "took legs" and no longer exists. One Agnew grave here can still be located — a black slate stone designating the last resting place of Samuel Agnew, died August 2, 1750; Mary Agnew, died August 3, 1750; and Andrew Agnew, died April 21, 1773.

This old grave marker and the name "Samuel," given to the eldest son of James (1) Agnew's second marriage, lends some credence to the tradition of the "second brother."

The Samuel, Mary and Andrew Agnew listed above were, according to family tradition, the children of the first Samuel Agnew, brother of James (1).

2. Martha (2) Agnew — born September 4, 1740 — married Samuel Patterson.

3. James (2) Agnew — born May 1, 1742 — married Mary Ramsey — died April 10, 1825.

Note:— The second James Agnew and his wife, Mary (Ramsey) Agnew, are both buried in the family plot in Lower Marsh Creek burial ground. The inscription from the markers at their graves are as follows:—

2. "In memory — of — James Agnew — who — died 10th April 1825 — In his 83rd year."

1. Adams Centinel, Wednesday April 13, 1825—

"Died, Sunday, April 10, 1825, aged 82 years, Mr. James Agnew, of this borough (Gettysburg). The deceased, an old soldier of the Revolution, has gone down to the grave of his fathers, full of years, leaving behind him the memory of a character unsullied, as a legacy to his numerous posterity."

In his will, which was written March 22, 1825 and entered to probate April 18, 1825, James (2) Agnew mentions the following members of his family —

1. "To my wife, Mary (Ramsey)" — (usual provision made.)

2. Daughter — Betsy Agnew

3. Son — David Agnew

4. Son — James Agnew (third of the name).

5. "The children of my daughter, Rebecca Agnew, now deceased, intermarried with the Rev. Baldrige —"

5. "The children of my son, John Agnew, deceased."

6. "My daughter, Polly (Mary) Agnew, intermarried with David Caldwell."

Will of James (2) Agnew (continued from last week) —

6. "Children of my son, John Agnew, deceased —"

7. Daughter — Polly Agnew intermarried with Alexander Caldwell.

8. "One-sixth part of my estate to the children of my daughter, Martha Agnew, deceased, who was married to David W. Wilson, equally to be divided between them."

Mary Ramsey, the wife of James (2) Agnew, made her will May 14, 1825, and it was entered to probate August 1, 1825. She, on her part, mentions the following members of her family —

1. Daughter — Elizabeth R. Agnew

2. Daughter — Mary Agnew intermarried with Alexander Caldwell.

3. Grandchildren — Martha Harriet Wilson, Rebecca Wilson, and Mary Ruth Caldwell.

4. Granddaughters — Elizabeth M. Agnew, Mary Ann Agnew and Mary Jane Ramsey Baldrige. Mary (Ramsey) Agnew further instructs her executor to "place a tombstone for self and husband." Pertaining to the children of James (2) and Mary (Ramsey) Agnew mentioned above the files of the "Adams Centinel" (later the "Star and Sentinel") contains the following date — under the dates given:—

3. Wednesday, November 19, 1817 —

"Departed this life, on the 16th day of October, 1817, in Adams County, Ohio, Mrs. Rebecca Baldrige, in the 46th year of her age, wife of Rev. James Baldrige, and daughter of Mr. James Agnew, of this borough (Gettysburg). She left a numerous connection to lament her death, among whom are an affectionate husband and eleven motherless children — one but a few hours old; but they sorrow not as those who have no hope; she was pious and exemplary through life; and they have comfort in her death."

Note:— A daughter of James (2) and Mary (Ramsey) Agnew — who was married to Rev. James Baldrige, a Presbyterian minister. They followed the advancing frontier and Rebecca (Agnew) Baldrige found a grave far from home and friends — as an old family record quaintly words it.

4. Wednesday, January 23, 1822 —

"Died, on Sunday, January 20th, 1822, Mrs. Martha Wilson, the wife of David Wilson, Junior, and the daughter of James Agnew, of this place (Gettysburg). She has left a large family to mourn her loss."

5. Wednesday, September 4, 1822 —

"Died, August 27th, 1822, Mary Wilson, the daughter of Mr. David Wilson, Junior, of Hamilton Township, this County."

6. Wednesday, September 4, 1822 —

"Died, Thursday night, August 29th, 1822, Mr. David Agnew, Junior, of Hamilton Township this County. It is but a few weeks since we announced the death of Mrs. Wilson, wife of the above deceased — and but last week the death of a daughter. Five small children by this dispensation of Providence have become orphans."

Note:— Two days before the death of James Wilson Junior, the son of Captain David Wilson, his little daughter, Mary Wilson, died — and — although the obituary speaks of it as "only a few weeks" the wife and mother had died some seven or eight months before. The "five orphan children" were reared by their grandparents — Captain David Wilson and his wife.

Both David Wilson Junior and his wife, Martha Agnew, are buried in the Lower Marsh Creek churchyard, and the inscriptions from their grave-stones follow:—

4. "In memory of — Martha Agnew — the wife of David Wilson — Died January 20, 1822 — In the 34th year of her — age."

5. "In memory of — David Wilson — Died August 29th, 1822 — Aged 37 years."

7. Wednesday, May 14, 1817 —

"Married, Thursday, May 8th, 1817, by the Rev. Charles G. McLean, of this County, Mr. James Agnew, of McConnellsbury, Bedford County, Pennsylvania, to Mrs. Rebecca Scott, of this borough (Gettysburg)."

Note:— James (3) Agnew, the bridegroom in this case, was second son of James (2) and Mary (Ramsey) Agnew.

David (3) Agnew, the eldest son of James (2) and Mary (Ramsey) Agnew, is buried in the family plot in Lower Marsh Creek —

6. "In memory of — David Agnew — Born September 14, 1780 — Died October 14th, 1851 — Aged 71 years. — Dear husband sleep beneath this ground — Until the trump of God shall sound — Upon the Resurrection morn to break his sweet repose."

"Also his wife — Elizabeth Agnew — Died November 19th, 1873 — In her 78th year."

4. David (2) Agnew, the third son and fourth child of James (1) and Rebecca (Scott) Agnew, was born July 17, 1743 and died January 17, 1797. He married Mary Erwin and eleven children were born to them. After the death of her first husband Mary (Erwin) Agnes married, for the second time, the Rev. Alexander Dobbin — a widower with seven children of his own. All went well, however, and the two, with the children, lived in "the utmost harmony."

David (2) Agnew, an officer in the War of the American Revolution, is buried in the Agnew family plot in Lower Marsh Creek —

7. "Here lies the body of David Agnew — who departed this life — January 17th, 1797 — Aged 54 years."

Mary (Erwin) Agnes Dobbin is interred at the side of her first husband.

These notes on the Agnew family will be continued in this column next week.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

The parishioners paid no attention to gentle swaying of their church. They felt at home in it. After all, they were men of the sea, accustomed to movement beneath their feet. And so it was entirely proper that their church should move in harmony with the movement of water.

It was the Floating Church of Our Savior for Seamen. Constructed in 1844 on the hull of a ship, it was moored at the foot of Pike Street in lower Manhattan.

At times, the sway was not so gentle. After a terrible gale, the Rev. Mr. Parker noted in his diary of September 1844 that "There was so much motion and the rain made so much noise that I found it difficult to be heard and to stand up at times."

The chapel sank under the weight of heavy snow in 1853, but was raised and continued to serve the waterfront. It was from this floating chapel that The Seamen's Church Institute of New York, the world's largest shore center for merchant seamen of all nations, evolved.

Town And College Benefit From Joint Forestry Plan

(Editor's Note: The borough of Waynesboro and Pennsylvania State University are participating in a cooperative forest management project that is producing dividends in cash, timber, water, and student training. Here's a progress report.)

By JESS GARBNER

WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP)—A cooperative forest management program between the borough of Waynesboro and Pennsylvania State University is producing cash and water dividends for the town while giving student foresters a 480-acre outdoor classroom where lessons are taught with the slide rule and were born to them. After the death of her first husband Mary (Erwin) Agnes married, for the second time, the Rev. Alexander Dobbin — a widower with seven children of his own. All went well, however, and the two, with the children, lived in "the utmost harmony."

Professional foresters assigned to Penn State's staff at the Mont Alto commonwealth campus supervise the program negotiated in 1950 when Dr. Maurice K. Gaddard, now secretary of forests and waters, was director of the school.

A forest floor of pine needle mulch will also retain more soil and delay sedimentation of the impounding dam, setting back the day when it will have to be cleaned.

Some of the earnings from timber sales go into the treasury of the forest technicians club as partial reimbursement for labor.

Each summer the student foresters return to school for a four-week forestry camp ending with a bus tour.

This year's camp will open Aug. 23 and will end with a Sept. 13-19 trip to the Monongahela National Forest in West Virginia where the students will undergo intensive training under the direction of their own professors and the U.S. Forest Service.

A portion of the cost of chartering the bus will come out of funds earned from timber cutting.

In return for these slight cash benefits the student foresters contribute back-breaking labor.

Actual cash retained from this past year's cutting activities is about $500. During that year the students contributed 2,165 man-hours, which comes out to less than 25 cents an hour.

Denies Financial Pressure On Scott

HARRISBURG (AP)—Republican State Chairman Craig Truxax denied a published report Friday that financial pressure was used on U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott as a means of forcing him to endorse Sen. Barry Goldwater for president.

The report said Scott was threatened with the loss of party financial backing in his bid for re-election if he continued to withhold his endorsement of Goldwater. The pressure reportedly was applied by Gov. Scranton, whom Goldwater defeated for the GOP presidential nomination.

Scott was a strong backer of Scranton for the nomination and served as the governor's floor manager at the party's national convention last month in San Francisco.

The published report said the pressure was placed on Scott at an Aug. 7 conference preceding a meeting of the Republican state executive committee and an open meeting of county chairmen and other party leaders.

At the open meeting Scott publicly endorsed Goldwater for the first time.

While gradual conversion of the watershed to the faster growing pines is expected to produce more marketable lumber, it will also produce more water.

Hardwoods, such as oaks, pump huge quantities of water out of the soil. Mosher notes, and this is lost in the atmosphere through transpiration from the leaves. Pines lose little water in this way.

COOLER FOREST FLOOR

In addition the pines keep a cooler forest floor in the winter, delaying the melting of snow and the spring runoff.

SHIPS UNDER ATTACK Viet Cong's Ho Chin Minh May Be Crazy But Panay Case Proves Nothing

By JIM DAN HILL
THE NORTH VIET NAM ATTACKS upon our warship sixty miles off the coast of Hanoi is occasionally compared to the sinking of the American gunboat Panay by Japan, 12 December 1937. The United States, in the interest of continued peace with Japan, took no punitive action.

In at least one instance the implication was clear that if the United States could afford to turn the other cheek then, why not now? After all, the destroyer Maddox was not sunk and the Panay was. It was bad for us to set the example of limited objective air raids to Turkey, it is said.

As usual in history, the cases do look alike but actually are not.

In 1937, the fighting was between the Japanese aggressors and the uncoordinated war lords of a collapsing Chinese nation. Rightly or wrongly, at that time America's policy was impartial neutrality.

Pursuant to earlier treaties with China, America had the right to keep gunboat patrols for contact, aid and rescue work among missionaries and other foreigners deep into the interior of China. The U.S.S. Panay was actually a shallow draft, river steamer with a navy crew. It was armed with a couple of three-inch guns and a sprinkling of machine guns on pedestal mounts.

AT THE TIME, she was on a mission of mercy to American and European refugees being displaced by the advance of the victorious Japanese army. She was well up the Yangtze River above Nanking. Japanese were often noted overhead. They were known to be flying tactical support missions.

Suddenly a passing formation began dive bombing the Panay. The little ship went down with all machine guns firing upward. Two of the small crew were killed and most of the remainder wounded or injured.

Within minutes after the news broke, the Japanese ambassador was at the American State Department bowing with abject apologies.

Then flashed the messages from Japan to Washington, coded to their ambassador and in the clear to American officialdom, saying it was a sad mistake. The Panay would be paid for. The families of the dead and the wounded would receive appropriate compensation. Americans had the Japanese code. Sincerity was unquestioned.

After the occupation of Japan army, the archives were searched. Two or more pilots who sank the Panay were still alive and were found. Once again the error in identification by Japan's aviators was confirmed.

In their turgid and double-crossing pre-World War II diplomacy, the Japs for once were telling the truth. Actually, they were truly panic-stricken by their error. They were not ready for a war with America. Their

ORRTANNA

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORRTANNA — The Women's Society of World Service of the Mt. Carmel EUB Church met in the church hall Monday evening with 11 members present.

A business meeting prefaced the joint session of the three churches of the Orrtanna EUB Charge, made up of Ma. Hope, Mt. Calvary and Mt. Carmel.

Mrs. Robert Shindler, the president, presided over the business meeting opening with the Lord's Prayer in unison after which the officers' reports were approved. New program books have been ordered.

Report showed the Bible School was in good financial standing.

It was decided to entertain the Cashtown Lions Club in early fall and a committee was asked to present a menu at the September meeting. At the close of the business meeting refreshments were served after which the Rev. Alfred Gotwalt, pastor, was leader for the joint meeting.

The subject was "Jesus Christ Re-news the Church." Prayer was offered by the leader. Those participating in the program were Mrs. Gotwalt, Mrs. Paul Wetzel, Mrs. Robert Shindler, Mrs. Dale Wetzel and Mrs. Claire Robert. Several letters from missionaries were read. Six members were present from Mt. Hope. Seven members were present from Mt. Calvary.

Mrs. Clyde Metz was the piano accompanist for group singing. Rev. Gotwalt presented a film on the life of "F-I-F-I," a Chinese boy in Hong Kong. Rev. Gotwalt offered the closing prayer. A social hour followed.

Radio astronomers have variously speculated that the radio signals from Jupiter emanate from tremendous electrical storms, from electrons trapped and energized by the planet's potent magnetic field, from the sun's effect on Jupiter's ionosphere or more powerful disturbances deep within the planet itself.

ONE COULD ARGUE that it is regrettable that the Panay affair did not lead to immediate hostilities. An aroused America in 1937 would have brought Japan to her knees within 18 months. France and England might well have been heartened to have called Hitler's bluff while he was still unprepared. The fighting then could not have been worse than what America was to go through, 1940-45.

But Americans cannot be aroused to a fighting edge with the other fellow apologizing and offering to pay. The American-educated Japanese ambassador knew it. His hair-trigger promptness served his nation well.

The present South East Asia situation is vastly different. America is an ally of South Viet Nam against North Viet Nam.

There are but two choices: Support our ally or abjectly accept defeat. The latter decision leaves America without a firm friend or trusting ally anywhere.

THE MYSTERY of the situation is why did the Hanoi Government of North Viet Nam attack our ship? North Viet Nam had been meeting with increasing success where we were weak; i.e., in the jungles of South Viet Nam. Neither Hanoi or Peking have the means for a successful naval offensive.

No one with a sense of tactics or strategy ever launches an attack in an area where he cannot possibly win, especially when he is doing well elsewhere.

There are but two possibilities. It is a diplomatic pin prick to test the depth of American firmness, or North Viet Nam's. Ho Chi Minh is crazy. The latter cannot be seriously considered. The first rule of warfare is never to decide your opponent crazy, but try to make him think you are; and let him make the mistake. It must be a diplomatic pinprick.

NODECISION YET BY LBJ ON RUNNING MATE

WASHINGTON (AP)—By an unusual twist, two long-time political comrades-in-arms and personal friends have been thrown into the roles of front-runners for the Democratic vice presidential nomination.

Minnesota's Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, 53, and Eugene J. McCarthy, 48, may find the roles a bit uncomfortable but they are carrying them through with good humor and grace as the time for a choice nears.

President Johnson, who will select the man for the No. 2 spot on the ticket, has not pointed a finger at either Minnesotan.

His choice may turn out to be someone else.

ON BEST TERMS

But Johnson's high regard for Humphrey and McCarthy has been voiced so often that speculation inevitably centered on them once the President eliminated Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and several other possibilities.

The two senators remain on the best of terms and continue to match their votes on almost every issue as the 1964 session grinds to an end.

Both will be delegates from Minnesota to the Atlantic City convention with opens Aug. 24.

They even are able to kid about their predicament, as they did at a fund-raising dinner for McCarthy earlier in the year. McCarthy is a candidate for re-election to the Senate this fall.

Humphrey served as chairman for the dinner, which attracted Johnson and an unusual number of other top figures in the party.

SHOULD BE THREE

Humphrey recalled there had been discussion in Congress of a constitutional amendment to provide for two vice presidents, and said that McCarthy had told him: "Hubert, don't be so downcast. When that constitutional amendment comes up taking care of Adlai (Stevenson) and me, we're going to amend it to provide for three vice presidents. We think there should be somebody who just travels around and has a good time."

"I want you to know, Gene, I accept," Humphrey replied.

At that dinner, incidentally, Johnson termed McCarthy "one of the greatest men in public life." But he was generous in praise of Humphrey then and on other occasions.

EX-COLLEGE TEACHERS
Humphrey and McCarthy began to build their political careers as youthful idealists after World War II in the battle to mold a new liberal party in Minnesota from Democratic and Farm-Labor elements. Both entered politics from college teaching. Humphrey became mayor of Minneapolis.

In 1948, both defeated Republicans to win places in Congress and came to Washington. Humphrey as a senator and McCarthy as a House member.

When McCarthy decided to move over to the Senate in 1958, Humphrey campaigned for him all over the state. McCarthy has reciprocated in Humphrey's races.

Both senators are alike in

Flying Water Skier Is Injured In Fall

NEW YORK (AP)—A flying water skier was injured in a 40-foot fall into a lake during a show at the world's fair Thursday.

Hal Elgin, 29, of St. Petersburg, Fla., was lifted gracefully from the water by a kite attached to his back. A gust of wind tore the kite loose and Elgin fell awkwardly, head over heels.

He was rescued from the water by other members of an 11-man team which water skied 2,100 miles from St. Petersburg to put on the show.

People In The News

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK (AP)—A. Philip Randolph, president of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters, says his union will endorse President Johnson in the November election. It will be the first time the union has ever formally backed a presidential candidate, said the 75-year-old Randolph, who also is a vice president of the AFL-CIO.

Randolph said in a local television interview that he did not believe the Republican candidate, Sen. Barry Goldwater, would enforce the new civil rights law with the necessary "enthusiasm."

Goldwater has pledged "faithful execution" of the law.

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Winthrop G. Brown, new U.S. ambassador to South Korea, presented his credentials Friday to President Chung Hee Park at the presidential mansion.

Brown, who succeeds Samuel D. Berger, now deputy superintendent of the National War College, told Park he was privileged to serve "at a time when the prospects are good for continued growth of the Korean economy and enhancement of the standard of living of the people."

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Jay Lerner, the Broadway lyricist, and his fourth wife, Micheline, are back together again, says the New York Daily News.

Mrs. Lerner, a French lawyer who gave up her practice to marry Lerner in 1957, filed suit in New York last May for separation.

their views on political questions and both are excellent speakers, although they differ sharply in style.

Humphrey is bouncy, vibrant, full of his subject, and his range of subjects is inexhaustible. McCarthy is much quieter, apt to use wit and irony; but he can be powerful, as his impressive nominating speech for Stevenson at the 1960 Los Angeles Democratic convention showed.

Senate friends of the two men size up their chances in the vice presidential contest this way:

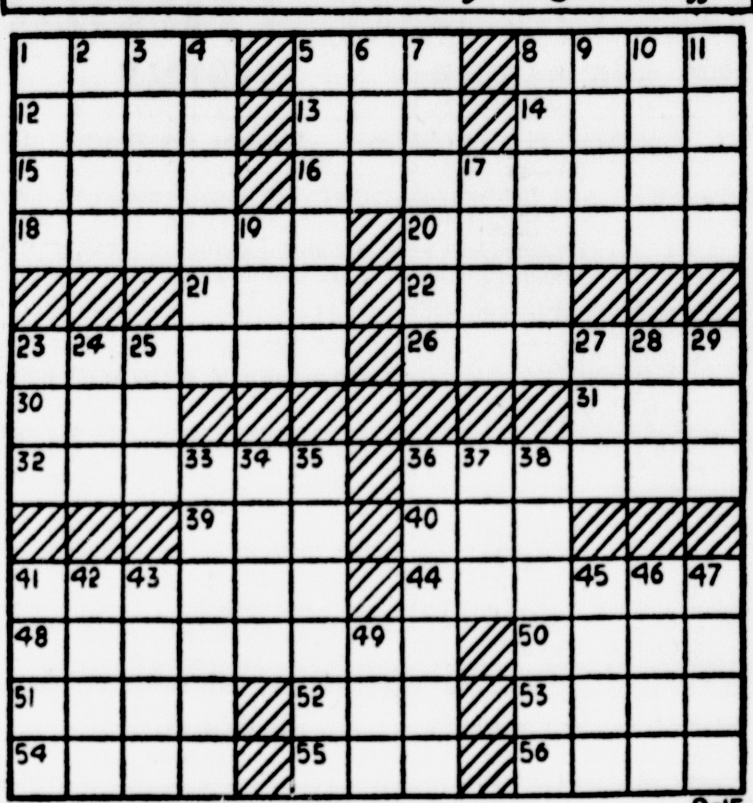

Humphrey is better known nationally and to Democratic politicians. He appears to have support of more party leaders and stands far higher in polls.

SOME SPECULATION
Johnson might well select him for this standing, for his broad knowledge of public affairs, his energy and zest, and his proven ability as a campaigner.

McCarthy is a bit more of a Johnson protégé, a graceful and attractive figure whose Roman Catholic faith might strengthen the ticket among some ethnic groups. He has more Southern support.

Johnson might decide he would prefer a running mate not quite so apt to be bursting with ideas and so ebullient.

BILL BANS AID TO INDONESIA

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has tacked to the foreign aid bill a ban on any aid to Indonesia.

Then, after adding another amendment also opposed by the administration — authority to use U.S. foreign currencies in Poland to repair a cemetery in Warsaw — it settled down Thursday to what may be a protracted debate over legislative reapportionment.

Until the scrap over the purely domestic issue is settled, the foreign aid authorization will have to wait. And unless it is settled quickly, plans to wind up Congress at the end of next week may go up in smoke.

The inflexible prohibition against any assistance to Indonesia — and suspension of the training of Indonesian military and police personnel at American bases — was offered by Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex. He was backed by his leader, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who quoted Indonesian President Sukarno as having said "the United States can go to hell with its aid."

Critics Label Marty Ingels "True Talent", "Great Clown", "Comic Find Of Year"; Fugitive From A Family Of Dentists

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

If you're a sculptor you'd probably find the face of Marty Ingels no laughing matter. Too quick-silver to capture.

But for the rest of us, the red-headed fugitive from a family of Brooklyn dentists is a howl. Even New York's most acid critic lavishes him with bouquets like "true talent," "great clown," "comic find of the decade."

"Listen," (subtly changing his malleable face to sad) "I learned a long time ago you can be too funny. It's just that I don't always know what to do about it."

He's otherwise radiant right now because, as you might put it, he got a message over at ABC on "Get the Message."

FAILED AUDITION

Two years ago he washed out in an audition for Goodson-Todman. Instead of giving up he campaigned steadily to get their attention again. Even when he was out in Hollywood Fenstering in his last season's series, "I'm Dickens, He's Fenster" he kept a barrage of letters, poems and gags winging back to New York.

But in spite of success in TV situation comedy and on the stage he couldn't get the paneling bug out of his system . . . so when he got back East a couple of months ago he got another audition. For a while the old "too funny" loomed.

"They scheduled me on 'Missing Links.' But I came on too strong, which is natural for a comedian. Some very good ones can't do panel shows for that reason. Our tendency is to keep giving."

ANOTHER CHANCE

"Luckily like General Motors, Goodson-Todman has a lot of models so I got another chance; this time on 'Get the Message.' My partner was Bennett Cerf. From him all of a sudden I got the right feeling . . . how to contribute to this type of program without trying to be the whole show.

Marty Ingels, who's seen panelling around these days on TV screens in Goodson-Todman shows, is also popping up on movie screens as a jazz musician in "Wild and Wonderful" with Tony Curtis starred. At the far right is comic Larry Storch.

"Now they even book me on their 'Cadillac' — 'What's My Line?' You wear a tuxedo, you've got status, you've arrived."

Marty is also arriving about now on movie screens around the country as a jazz musician in Tony Curtis' "Wild and Wonderful." What a thrill. Why only a couple of years ago Tony was somebody I was reading about in fan magazines."

HAS STARRING ROLE

Next spring Marty will be starring himself in "Birds Do It" for MGM. (All about a professor who finds he can fly).

Meantime — back at Goodson-Todman there's a seepage of rumors that say G-T are expanding their production plans above and beyond quiz shows and that said expansion involves Marty.

Well? Marty squirmed in his chair, pushed aside his good Sardi's East food as though it were going to eat him and said: "All I know is an important fellow over there surprised me with, 'Marty if you were to have show of your own,

what would you want?'"

"After all that conforming to formats!"

Marty seems to have instant-frozen like a kid in an ice cream factory . . . then thawed enough to rattle off, "Situation comedy, but funny."

LIFE-LIKE FICTION

It's hard to see how G-T could do better than to model a series, if they went through with it, on Marty Ingels' own adventures.

"At first I didn't know where to find my place; I was just running from denistry." His mother likes dentists; both his brothers are (and a couple of other relatives also).

Typical of the two dozen jobs he held briefly was his one-night stand as Stork Club bartender. "The bar was never so full, but the customers were all laughing instead of drinking."

COMEDY DEBUT

Then came the Army, where his face got him scouted for a TV quiz ("Name That Tune"). After discharge he used the prize money for Pasadena Playhouse tuition . . . but was expelled after his first play. People laughed when they saw Marty trying to be tragic.

After a comedy TV debut on a Phil Silvers Show in which only the back of Marty's head got on screen Steve Allen discovered him and things brightened. They darkened again when he got booked into Las Vegas and found "funny" wasn't good enough there if it was also "too clean."

Then he made a list of Hollywood studios, worked out "James Bond routines, practically" to get into biggies' office when the secretaries were away at 12:03, got kicked out and kicked around until he braced himself and stormed the office marked "Jerry Lewis, Producer."

Within the hour Jerry was showing him around the set, a week later he was sailing on Jerry's yacht, signed up for Jerry's "Ladies' Man."

"It takes a nut to know one," Marty rejoices. "As Jerry said: 'You used to be the neighborhood goon, now you're a nationwide goon. The comedy you're getting paid for now is what you used to get fired for.'"

GREAT PRODUCER

"You know," digressed Marty, "people don't give Jerry credit for being a great producer. Why he's worked out something with lights himself that was just sensational. But he has to do everything himself. It makes me sad to see a guy like that give 50 times more of himself than he should and enjoy it 30 times less."

Then you realize Marty himself is singularly blessed. It's not that he isn't sad sometimes. "People don't like to hear of it in comics . . . but it's true of all of them. It's like a jet engine; the forward thrust is balanced by a reaction."

He has the super-charged drive that's occupational with comedians. But what he has none of is a tendency either to bitterness or malice. If he doesn't get a job? No hard feelings. He even sends off "thank you" for letters that say things like "Who do you think you are, Milton Berle?" ("I can always learn something," he philosophizes.)

How would he see himself in a comedy role?

"I'M SYMPATHETIC"

"Well, though I'm not handsome, I'm sympathetic. And I get the girl. Of course I don't take her away from Hugh O'Brian!"

But in real life he sort of did. Jean Marie was dating both of them, said "yes" to Marty when he gave the "make up your mind" ultimatum.

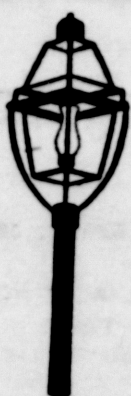

He'd wanted her to give up modeling; but "Dickens-Fenster" was cancelled the day after the wedding . . . "So I said honey, take only the good jobs. After all, we've got a $75,000 house to pay for. Worse yet, with four dentists in my family she had to have her teeth fixed first, so I also married $4,000 in dentists bills!"

SHOW BUSINESS FAMILY

The wife of magician-turned-actor Carl Ballantine is also in show business and performs in night clubs under her own name, Cecil Cabot.

NAME EXPLAINED

Bilingual Lucille Ball

As thousands of American travelers have been delighted to learn, that American export Lucille Ball pops up on television screens around the world and always in the native tongue. Says an American woman.

"You can't imagine how dumbfounded I was in a cafe in Berlin to see Lucy looking like herself but jabbering German. The answer of course is good dubbing... but the real draw is Lucy. She'd be just as popular if she only pantomimed."

Which is why it would seem to make sense that the World's Fair in New York has declared August 31 "Lucy Day."

The comedienne herself will be on the grounds for 11 hours. She'll get a drum and bugle corps escort from the main gate, luncheon at the Indonesian pavilion, and later on, a luau at the Hawaii pavilion.

Somewhere in between she'll see a showing of her video tapes dubbed into French, Spanish, Japanese and German. In addition to North and South America and Europe, Lucille Ball shows are seen in the Philippines, Japan, Thailand, Australia, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia, Nigeria and Ghana.

Boardwalk Chair For NBC Reporter

The traditional way to get around Atlantic City, a rolling boardwalk chair is going to be updated for the electronic age by NBC for the duration of the Democratic National Convention commencing August 24.

Says network spokesman Jim Holton, "We expect most people attending the convention will be using the boardwalk to get from their hotels to Convention Hall and this chair unit will be able to move freely."

"The rolling chair unit" will be staffed by a reporter and an engineer and equipped for both live and taped broadcasting.

ERNIE BECKONED "We have the highest respect for him as an entertainer, as a public figure, and as a member of the Air Force Family," said Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, President of the Air Force Association in expressing pleasure that Tennessee Ernie Ford had agreed to emcee the annual Air Force Honors Night program September 11 in Washington, D.C.

King Family TV Special

The producers of Hollywood Palace pre-empt their own program for the night of August 29 to produce an hour-long musical special "The Family Is King" featuring what they consider one of the most unusual families in show business.

Though the "big band" fans of the 1940's are said always to think of The King Sisters as a trio, they are actually six sisters, and "each, along with the children, husbands, cousins, nieces and nephews" will be there. And oh yes, so will the girls' father. A "cast" of 39 in all.

CBS has finally set a date for its "An Hour with Robert Goulet." It will preempt "The Nurses," November 19.

September 20 at 9 p.m. (CBS) will mark the second "Lincoln Center Day Special." It commemorates the opening one year ago of New York's Lincoln Center for the Performing Arts.

Jack Klugman, Emmy Winner, Is TV Father

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Interviews with Jack Klugman usually start with one question: "What on earth is the actor who won an Emmy for last season's finest dramatic performance doing playing father in one of these half-hour situation comedies?"

Klugman's forthright response provides no release from press agent pain.

"I signed to do the show before I got the Emmy. Of course I'd never have done it if the Emmy had come first."

Klugman gave an impressive performance on CBS' "The Defenders" as an actor whose left-wing political beliefs destroyed his career.

PLAYS A REGULAR

In October he will turn up as a regular in a piece of NBC fluff called "Harris Against the World." It is part of a comedy trilogy titled "90 Bristol Court."

"They offered me a firm commitment for 26 weeks," Klugman continued, "and I decided to take the show because it was important for me to get stabilized for a while. I found I was spending at least half my life out here in Hollywood at a time when it was important for my boy, who is five, to have his father around more."

He sold his home outside New York and the family is here now in a rented house.

SAFE SEASON

The approaching season in network television may not be the most exciting in history, but from an industry viewpoint, it is a safe one. There will be about three times as many new half-hour shows in the prime-time network schedules as new hour-long shows. It is less costly and infinitely less disruptive to remove a faltering half-hour entry, costing between $50,000 and $65,000 per episode, from a lineup than to rip open a huge hole with the elimination of a 60-minute failure costing more than $100,000 per show.

All three networks had some bitter, expensive programming lessons last season — ABC with "The Jerry Lewis Show," CBS with "The Judy Garland Show," and NBC with "Espionage."

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENTS

The National Association of Broadcasters' code which limits the time allowed for commercials has been temporarily liberalized so that stations can use paid political advertisements without counting them as commercial time. At least CBS will stick to its usual strict house rules and include political plugs with the usual run of soap, potato chips and beer pitches, for which viewers will undoubtedly be grateful.

STANCH BROADCASTER

Robert Trout once worked a straight 12-hour stretch at the mike at the 1952 convention. It's said to be the record. But he set another for loyalty to the mike on the Fourth of July 1938. There was a shortage of announcers because of the holiday so he and Catherine Crane got married between broadcasts.

WARD WINNER TO TV

American actress Ann Bancroft, who won the Best Actress Award at the Cannes Film Festival for her role in "The Pumpkin Eater" will make a television guest appearance with Perry Como in October.

$50,000 Top Prize To Gold Winner

$50,000 is first prize in the September 12-13 World Series of Golf. The runner-up gets $15,000; the third and fourth finishers get $5,000 each.

Competing will be Arnold Palmer, Masters champion; Ken Venturi, U.S. Open champion; Tony Lema, British Open champion, and Bobby Nichols, PGA champion. NBC will colorcast the final holes on each of the two days.

SMALL WORLD

The Warrens and the Goldins live only eight blocks apart in Prairie village, Kansas. Population, 3,500.

And now they've met at last, but in New York City.

On vacation Mrs. Sue Goldin and Mr. James Warren were chosen as panelists for the same day on NBC's "Concentration" starring Hugh Downs.

MEREDITH IN PROFILES

Burgess Meredith portrays the title role in "The Gov. John Peter Altgeld Story," in the "Profiles in Courage" series.

TV Specials Review Aims Of Statesmen

Three separate and unusual documentaries, two for CBS and the other by NBC, will crystallize thoughts of two former English prime ministers and "some" of the 35 men who have been President of the United States.

The "Anthony Eden" documentary will be shown by CBS in its fall "Twentieth Century" Sunday series. He will discuss major world events in which he personally took strong stands: Munich and Suez.

Sir Winston Churchill's recreational painting will be the theme of an NBC "Hall of Fame" colorcast on Monday November 30, the distinguished statesman's 90th birthday. Interestingly, through an unusual agreement, the program will be telecast the same day in the United Kingdom and the Commonwealth.

PRESIDENTS' THOUGHTS

For "The Presidency: A Splendid Misery" (to be presented by CBS at 7:30 Wednesday, September 2) an all-male starring cast has been signed. Frederic March will narrate and Dana Andrews, Ed Begley, E. G. Marshall, Jason Robards Jr., and Robert Ryan will speak some of the thoughts on record of the men "who have held the highest elective post in our national government."

The Churchill film will be based on his own book, "Painting as a Pastime." The greater part of the filming will be done at the statesman's country house, Chartwell, where most of his paintings hang. Where recordings are available of his own voice, they will be used. Otherwise his comments are to be spoken by British actor Wymark.

Hallmark, Inc. also plans to make the film available to schools and colleges throughout the world.

The Anthony Eden interview has also been filmed at his country home, Fyfield Manor.

Jeanne Cagney of "Queen for a Day" is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Hunter College.

STAR-GAZING BIG PASTIME IN HOLLYWOOD

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Star-gazing, after all these years, remains the favorite sport of residents and visitors in this world film capital.

Buses providing guided tours around the studio lots and past the stars' homes are invariably filled. Except for the forthcoming Beatles appearance, the hottest ticket in town entitles the bearer to a two-hour, $2.50 tram ride around the busy Universal-Revue lot.

It is booked solidly for weeks in advance.

Watching human actors — preferably well-known ones — perform is interesting, but even more fascinating is a look at the complicated assembly line set up to make a television series like "Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea," ABC's new science-adventure series about an atom-powered submarine and set 10 years in the future.

UNDERSEA ACTION

The series will specialize in dramatic undersea action which requires delicate, special camera work.

There will be collisions between subs, underwater explosions, even attacks on cities built on the ocean floor. All this violent action takes place in a cement tank on the studio backlot the size of a small swimming pool but considerably deeper and equipped with port-holes for the cameras' eyes. All the props, from subs to rocks and buildings are carefully constructed scale miniatures.

PERRY MASON ILL

CBS' "Perry Mason Show" shut down production this week while star Raymond Burr is recovering from a bad tooth infection. He was not only in severe pain but his face swelled to a point where no makeup could disguise it.

Most interesting program of the past week by any standards was CBS' Thursday night visit with Mrs. Lyndon Baines Johnson at the "Little White House" in Texas, the LBJ Ranch.

Mrs. Johnson proved a warm, gracious and interesting hostess, moving informally through the downstairs rooms and pointing out items of special interest.

Walter Cronkite handled the half-hour in the effective old "person-to-person" style.

Mrs. Johnson will give ABC something like equal time with a Washington interview with Howard K. Smith in the White House Oval Room on Aug. 22.

VANISHING TOWNS

Preparing for a fall documentary, NBC produced Donald Hyatt says he finds many small towns are becoming ghost towns because farming has gone into great combines often run from the cities.

REAL THING

The first episode in the new series "Gomer Pyle — USMC," starring Jim Nabors, shows Gomer enlisting. The actual filming was done at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot in San Diego, Calif.

STILL PLAYING

"Laramie" will be seen on home screens in Cologne, Germany, this season.

ELECTRIC LIVING GUIDE

All rights reserved. E. T. Stephens & Co., Inc., New York.

The 1960's Updates A Dream

"Living only 20 minutes from the city . . . could have cramped the imagination. But we didn't let it.

"After waiting 15 years to start building our 'just-the-way-we-want-it-house' we weren't for giving up the dream of field stone facing and a mammoth field stone fireplace in the living room.

"Glad we had to wait, though. Electrical heating's readily available now . . . glad we availed ourselves!"

Listening to the man with the "North-of-England, or South-of-Scotland" look to his new showplace tells you something about the improvements the 1960's have made commonplace.

Explains one of the area's leading electrical heating contractors: "Electricity, for total home heating, is a hundred per cent usable. Nothing is wasted enroute from a boiler to a radiator. With electricity, there is no furnace (or 'boiler'). No radiators either.

"The baseboards, or wall panels or ceiling cables as the case may be, get all the heat into the room. If insulation is carried out according to recommendations, then all the heat stays where it's routed. No loss through loose windows or drafty spots."

Then, to crown the list of electrical heating benefits, concludes the heating contractor, utility companies lowered their electricity-as-fuel rates within the last few years.

He also opines that the field stone fireplace house might not have proven such a dream after all had it happened a few years earlier.

"It probably would have felt as much like Scotland as it looks came the first dark day if it weren't for the electrical heating system.

"Their living room, you see, is two stories high. With the flexibility of placement we get with electrical heating units, we're able to provide the kind of warmth that would startle the lairds."

And the fieldstone fireplace?

"Glad we have it," says the owner. "It's our focal design feature. Roast a few franks on it sometimes too . . . more to make conversation than to provide nourishment. Sure are glad we don't have to depend on that baby for comfort, though.

"When the weather gets cold, the real conversation piece is the something you don't even see! It's our electrical heating system."

QUESTION BOX

Q. Is it true that in electrically heated houses it is best to use the wall panel units on all outside walls?

A. You're coming in with a slightly scrambled assumption! Wall panels when used — and only your electrical contractor is qualified to recommend — are generally, but not always used on outside walls when they are used. Some models of wall heaters, according to a utility company's consumer information sheet, are so designed that they depend on air movement for heat distribution. But! It doesn't have to be a wall heater on your outside walls. In fact, the electrical baseboard is extremely popular having long since proven its effectiveness under windows as well as elsewhere.

Q. What is the right time of year for converting to electric heat?

A. As far as we're concerned, anytime and the sooner the better . . . which is far from being as flip as it sounds. Our own rewiring and reconstruction was done in winter. We lived in the house the whole time with only slight shifting-around nuisance until the job was done.

The reason for "sooner" is pure economics. The value of your house goes up, in an equity sense as well as comfort quotient, as soon as the upgrading to an electrical heating system has been completed.

Costs, however, mount each year. Hence, the sooner you start, the more you save in the long run.

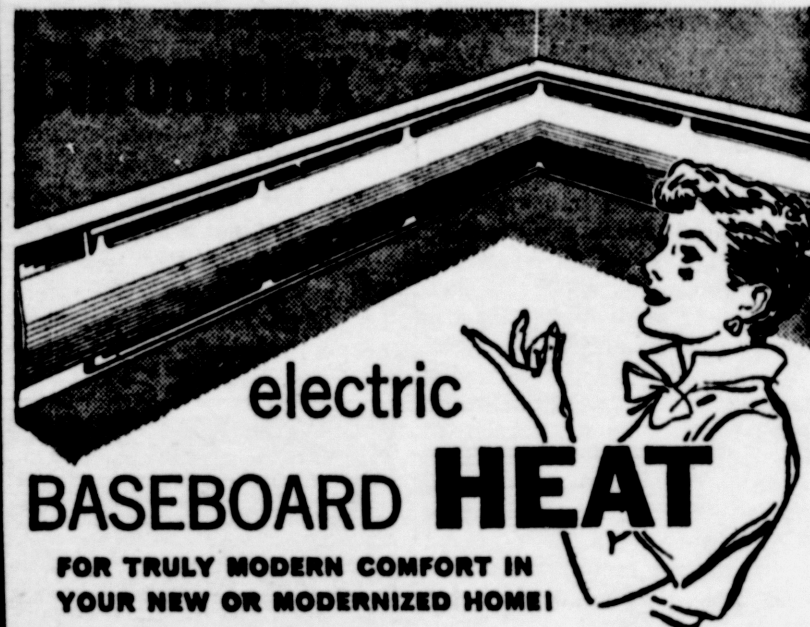

Unless there is something unusual about the state of your personal finances, you'll find this is the kind of home improvement banks readily clear loans for.

Q. Because of a job change we've just moved east and are planning to build ourselves a home here as close to the three-year-old electrically - heated honey we had to sell.

Now in going over the specifications, I'm lost. Last time for instance the chart specified that ceiling insulation should consist of 6 inches of mineral wool. Now it's "R-19."

A. Time, not distance, accounts for the change. The "R" for "installed resistance" has been adopted as a more precise measurement.

Saudi Arabia Will Open 13 TV Stations

An international TV undertaking unprecedented in size — to provide Saudi Arabia with 13 television stations — has been announced by NBC International, a division of NBC Enterprises. Saudi Arabia has selected NBC International for this project.

"This is one of the most significant and extensive agreements ever entered into by NBC International," George A. Graham Jr., vice president in charge of NBC Enterprises, said in making the announcement. "NBC International is proud to be selected for this important program that will bring television to the people of Saudi Arabia."

MAY TAKE 12 YEARS

The project, which will be in process of development for the next 10 or 12 years, will require an initial staff of 21 American technicians, plus about 70 Saudis. Fifty or more Americans will be added as the project advances.

The initial phase, now under way, calls for the installation and operation, by next April, of two interim television stations — one each at Jidda and Riyadh. Subsequently, in the years that follow, these will be replaced by permanent installations, and additional stations will begin operations in Mecca, Taif, Medina, Buraida-Enaize and Al Kharij.

MOBILE VAN UNIT

The first two stations will have complete live capability, including tape and a mobile van at each station. Eventually, each station in the country is expected to be linked by micro-wave relay.

Because non-Islams are not permitted in Mecca, when work on that particular installation is begun it will be in the form of a relay station in the hills above the city, to be moved later on as the Saudis take over operation.

The entire project is being underwritten by the Saudi Arabian government as one of the phases of a program of modernization and advancement sponsored by the administration of Prince Faisal. He aims to acquaint the world with his country's culture, through the medium of television, as well as to broaden the outlook of his people.

Two noted actors will narrate two color specials during the same week on NBC.

Michael Rennie will be the narrator for "Ganges — Sacred River" produced by Lou Hazan. The documentary, filmed along the Indian river's nearly 1,600-mile course is scheduled for 10 p.m. Tuesday, September 15.

Fredric March will be on-camera as well as off for "Small Town," Friday, September 18 at 10 p.m. The shooting took ten weeks.

Says producer Eugene S. Jones, "The program is designed as a thoughtful, dramatic view of the life and death of small-town American in the 1960's. Our small towns are disappearing hand-over-fist."

LOOKING AHEAD

According to Frank Marx, president of ABC Engineers, "The home of the future may have walls made of an electro-luminescent material that will eliminate such gadgets as lamps and bulbs."

GRADUATED

Ann Williams who used to play nurse roles on "Edge of Night" now plays Dr. Maggie Fielding on "The Doctors."

Stubby Kaye On Quiz Show

Tubby Stubby Kaye will be up to some new "Shenanigans" this fall; "Shenanigans" being the title of a children's quiz show being presented by ABC Saturday mornings beginning September 26. It will originate in Hollywood.

The latest news from CBS about its ambitious "The Great War" series is that the name's not the same any more. The new title is "World War I." Producers Isaac Kleiner and John Sharnik are said to have amassed much rare film from archives and private collectors from all over the world.

The initial offering (8 p.m. September 22) will focus on the beginning, "The Summer of Sarajevo." The timing of the series coincides with the 50th anniversary of the tragic conflict.

NBC has revealed a little more — but not much more — about its "Sneak Preview" specials commencing in November with Steve Lawrence starring. George Schlatter, who handled Jonathan Winters' "Wild Win-

Liz, Sophia Honor Crews On Last Day

Entrepreneur Phil D'Antoni won't say which of the two superstars, Elizabeth Taylor or Sophia Loren, he prefers to work with . . . and he says it's sincerely because both were just peachy. Further, he says they have a trait in common, they get along fine with the crews. Phil says that when they were filming last year's guided tour of London, Elizabeth surprised everybody by throwing a party at the quaint pub where the last scene was shot. Furthermore she sent the men home to bring back their wives. Everybody just loved her, Phil recalls. Then this year when shooting ended on Sophia's tour of Rome, she too gave a party for the crew at her Rome apartment.

"They were both spontaneous, gracious acts. They didn't have sters Night," will produce the mystery special. "Details," concludes an announcement, are being withheld intentionally."

to do it. In fact when you hear about a last-day party it's usually the producer who does it. But no, in each case, they'd planned ahead for the food and everything and seemed to take genuine pleasure in surprising us."

SHERMAN CONCERT

Remember when "concerts" used to mean music? Well, now it's also the word for a nerve-racking type of personal appearance that big talent comics take on. Try to top Allen "Hello Muddah" Sherman though. He hustled through his "Tonight" show guest stint to bustle off to the Coast and a concert . . . in the Hollywood Bowl.

Interesting aside . . . Dick Gottlieb says beautiful girls are amazing. When it comes to the evening gown competition for the International Beauty Pageant all the beauties look flawlessly turned out. And though some of the entrants are dressed by top coutouriers, others wear dresses they made themselves.

'BANDSTAND' SUCCESS

My how time flies! Would you believe it? August marks the seventh anniversary for ABC's "American Bandstand" with Dick Clark!

A dozen of television's top writers have been toiling over scripts for NBC's expensive "Man from UNCLE" . . . but no matter how you look at it, in-character terse Robert Vaughn is getting to look more and more like James Bond. (His new series has everything contemporary: Sleek secret do-good operation versus sleek computerized bad guys bent on world domination. From the advance prospectus it also looks like generous side helpings of posh backgrounds and instant romance.

COLLECTOR

Mel Blanc, "the man of a thousand voices," has one of the most unique antique watch collections in the country. His oldest watch dates back to the year 1511.

The Waldensians, a sect of only 35,000 people are descendants of the earliest Protestants and live in the Piedmont area of northern Italy says Pamela Ilott who visited them while preparing a CBS documentary.

Actress Jean Vander Pyl is the voice of Wilma in the animated stone age series, "The Flintstones" and she's also heard as baby daughter Pebbles.
